Why Flexirent?

For Home:

Have you had the desire lately to purchase a faster, more powerful computer for home - but then realised the $3000 you need will be wasted on a machine that will be practically worthless and need upgrading in 2 or 3 years time? And then the latest software you want dictates the type of machine you should get - it's a vicious circle isn't!

If you are feeling a little perplexed, you're not alone. Many people like yourself recognise how quickly technology evolves, and are looking for an alternative to purchasing equipment. The solution is Flexirent.

For Business:

Once you have identified the need for new technology. Flexirent can provide you with the rental facility to acquire the equipment you want - with the Flexirent to trade-up when your needs change.

So, rather than outlay your working capital to purchase equipment you want rather than what your cash budget may restrict you to. And if you use the equipment for work related purposes, your monthly payments are typically tax deductible.

So Whether you are a teacher needing a laptop for work or a business wanting to upgrade all your workstations. Flexirent can help you stay ahead.
